

mediaforfreedom.com

Issue 17 - March, 2008

Home

About Us

Links

Archieve

Login

Journalists invited to first Latin American health congress

By: IJNET

Posted on: 3/6/2008

Journalists invited to first Latin American health congress

Region : Latin America

Country : Argentina

Topic : Health, Specialized Reporting

06/03/2008

Health journalists and correspondents, academics and communication students, and social communicators are invited to attend the first Latin American congress on rare diseases, scheduled for March 27 to 29 in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Registration deadline: March 15.

The event is organized by Fundación Grupo de Enlace, Investigación y Soporte en Enfermedades Raras (GEISER), in cooperation with Facultad de Medicina (UBA) and Argentina's health and education ministries.

For more information, contact Virginia Llera at fundgeiser@gtgroup.com.ar or visit (in Spanish) www.fundaciongeiser.org.

Copyright IJNET

[Editorial/
Opinion](#)

News

Opinion

Press Release

Read All Articles

Related Stories-News

- Global Media Forum to focus on peace-building, conflict prevention
- STOCKHOLM TO HOST LITERARY HUMAN RIGHTS CONGRESS
- GLOBAL INTEGRITY SEEKS EXPERTS FOR 2008 REPORT
- Science communication to be the focus at international conference
- Florida festival to celebrate young journalists
- India's biggest media awards calls for entries from Indian journalists
- MASTER OF WISDOM TO DR. RAVINDRA KUMAR
- Elizabeth Neuffer Fellowship calls for women journalist applicants
- Australian Museum opens Eureka prizes for science journalism
- Fellowships encourage accurate reporting on mental health
- RHINO COUNT : Encouraging Increase
- Making ICTs work for poverty reduction
- Manthan Award 2008

©2007 Media For Freedom

freedomformedia@gmail.com, All Rights Reserved.

| Designed & maintained by BSOFT NEPAL (P) Ltd | Upgrade Your Browser